Important Financial Aid Information

Your financial aid could be adjusted by a single course withdrawal if you are withdrawing prior to, or on the Census Date (typically, the end of the 10th day of class) and if you fall below the full time enrollment of 12 credit hours. Any courses you are auditing do NOT count toward your financial aid credit hours.

Dropping below full-time enrollment (12 credit hrs.) may also cause you to lose certain State and UNC Asheville scholarships and grants.

Dropping below half-time enrollment (6 credit hrs.) would cause you to lose your Federal Title IV financial aid (Subsidized and Unsubsidized loans and most of your Pell Grant).

Withdrawing from a single course could also affect your Satisfactory Academic Progress. In order for you to be eligible for your financial aid for the future terms, your GPA will need to be a 2.0 or greater (institutional GPA) and your completion ratio (amount of hours passed/earned divided by amount of attempted hours) must stay at 67% or above.

I acknowledge the above information from financial aid:
